TUBERCULAR DISEASE OF LUNGS AND BRONCHITIS.
Tubercular consumption of the lungs is that form of the disease most common, most fatal, and until recently considered incurable. Tubercle, from which the name is derived, is a morbid product, deposited from diseased blood in various parts of the body; and in proportion as that fluid is impure, and length of time it remains so, will tubercular diathesis continue.
FALL RIVER, MASS., March 20th, 1879.
JAMES I. FELLOWS, Esq.:
Dear Sir. About three years ago I was attacked with bronchitis and tubercular disease of the left lung, and suffered for two years so severely that I was unable to attend to business. About a year ago I was advised to try Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites, and before I had finished one bottle my appetite and strength were greatly improved; my cough became less troublesome, my sleep was sound and refreshing, which had not been the case for over a year. I had suffered from nervousness and difficult breathing all the time I was sick, but your syrup has cured it all. I advise all persons afflicted as I was to use Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites.
(Signed) JAMES H. STEWART.
An endless chain of good effects is formed by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, and where cure in saving, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination.

What I appered to
Stone in the Kidneys expelled after using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy about two weeks.

One of the most remarkable cases that has ever been brought to the notice of the public, is that of Mr. J. S. Beach, of Stone Ridge, Ulster Co., N. Y. Mr. Beach had suffered since October 18th, 1874, from the presence of Calculus or Stone in the right Kidney. No less than seven physicians were employed at different times, to whom Mr. Beach paid from fifty to one hundred dollars for medical treatment, but with only temporary relief from his agony.
By the urgent solicitations of his friends he was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy"—experienced a marked improvement from the first day he began to use the medicine; on the 15th of September he voided a stone as large as could be passed through the natural channel.
Mr. Beach concludes a long letter to Dr. Kennedy by saying: "I will always afford me pleasure to recommend the "Favorite Remedy" to those who may be suffering from difficulties of the Kidneys and Bladder, or any disorders arising from an impure state of the blood. The "Favorite Remedy" sold by all druggists. The Doctor's only address, is Rondout, New York.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Bates Mills, in Lewiston, have run a part of their machinery, evenings, this last week.

A Lewiston man makes a living for his horse by sweeping Haymarket Square with a pitchfork every morning. The horse gets the gleanings.

On one of the most bitter of the stinging days of last week, an old gentleman came into a Lewiston attorney's office, early in the morning. The office is heated by a marble-topped steam radiator. The old gentleman evidently didn't know what the marble object was, but appeared to be looking around for a stove to warm his almost frozen hands. Seeing the safe in the opposite end of the room, he made a beeline for it. He spread his hands over it, bent his face down in front of it, rubbed his ears, and remarked, "Whew! This is awful weather," seeming to get a good deal of comfort out of the cold steel.

The Lewiston Journal says: The overseers of Hill Mill, with their wives, and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Rankins, No. 1, Hill corporation, surprised that gentleman and lady, Thursday eve, presenting them with an elegant parlor set of furniture. The presentation address by Mr. Frank L. Noble, of Bates '74, was in his happiest mood and very satisfactory. The donors completely surprised the unsuspecting couple, who were invited out to spend the evening, while the furniture and a bountiful collation was prepared in their home, and they were sent for to find their friends in possession.

Cumberland.

At a meeting of the friends of the proposed railroad from Bridgton to Portland, in Raymond, last week, a committee of five was chosen to canvass the town in the interest of the railroad, and also to see how much money can be secured by private subscription. Much interest was evinced by the people of the various towns on the proposed line.

The fishing schooner, McClintock, arrived at Portland, Wednesday, from Cape Nigger, N. S., with 67,000 pounds of codfish. She stocked on this trip $1,367, and has been able to hand over to each man $60.27. She has stocked this winter so far $4,000 and the fare is the largest offered and sold in that city this winter.

Oxford.

The News says that the house, and pretty much all of its contents, of Simon Nason, near Mount Pleasant, in Denmark, were destroyed by fire last week. The fire is supposed to have caught overhead from the tunnel, and as a high wind prevailed, the progress of the flames could not be stayed. There was no insurance.

Sagadahoc.

Mrs. Philena Loring, an old lady living in the westerly part of the town of Richmond, was found dead, Friday morning, by her neighbors. She was 76 years of age and lived all alone.

York.

Mrs. Seth T. Scribner, the mother of Dr. Walter Larrabee, who was found dead in his office, at Saco, is apparently at the point of death. She attended her son's funeral at Kennebunkport, and returned home entirely prostrated, and has not rallied at all or taken any nourishment since.

The Argus says that Monday night, about 11 o'clock, Messrs. George Hatch, postmaster, A. K. Tripp, Esq., a lawyer, and Capt. Chas. Bourne, a well-known ship-master, were returning to their homes, when suddenly, apparently ten or twelve miles away, ahead of them, and about ten or twelve feet above the horizon, there appeared a large ball of bright red light, about the size of a bushel basket. Anon it rose high and then sank almost from sight. This continued for half an hour, when it disappeared as suddenly as it had appeared.

THE WRONG BOOK.

Mr. Howl's funeral was one of the most exciting episodes that has ever occurred in this country. The trouble all originated from the wickedness of young Ragbag. The organist at the church where the ceremony was to take place, hasn't heard a note of music for ten years, being considerably deafer than a post. But he wouldn't give up his position, all the same, and as he couldn't hear what psalms the minister gave out that personage always took the book and put in marks at the pieces desired. Young Ragbag knew this, and the day before the funeral he got into the church, captured the book, which the minister had prepared for the organist, removed the cover and had it put upon a book of the popular airs of the day. Then he put the marks into the book and placed it upon the organist's desk. When the day of the funeral came, the organist took up the book which he recognized by the cover, opened it at the first mark and as people filed into the church began to play. The air was "The Skids Are out To-day," but though the music read a little queer to him, the old man couldn't hear it and didn't know anything was wrong. But the people were shocked and didn't know what to make of it. However, he stopped before anybody could interfere, as nobody said anything. After the people got seated, the clergyman entered, and as he went up the aisle the organ pealed forth "The Rogue's March," and somehow the people tittered and the clergyman got very red in the face, and an usher was sent to look to the old man. But as he couldn't make the organist hear without bellowing like a bull and he didn't want to do that, nothing was effected. The mourners were very much though. The ceremony began, presently, the minister gave out a hymn. He knew that would be right. But it wasn't. The choir wanted to sing "Nearer to Thee," but the organ pealed out "Down in a Coal Mine" so loudly as to drown their voices. That was too much. Three deacons and a few male mourners rose and started for the organ loft. The old man thought they were getting up to go out and struck into the "Bulgian Guards." By the time they got at him they were wild with rage. He never quite understood how he happened to get thrown from the loft upon the heads of people below who rolled him up and down the aisle and finally ran him out of doors and threw him into an old dry well. But he does know that he has lost his position as organist and that Mr. Howl's remains were again obsequied the next day without proceedings disgraceful to a civilized community.

OUT OF THE USUAL LINE.] Yesterday, the landlord of an up country summer hotel was in the city and called on several people to see if they would remember his house when deciding on the place to go next summer. He struck a Devonshire street broker who has a large family and mentioned what he wanted. "Got a nice place?" asked the broker. "First-rate," said the landlord. "Many attractions?" "Several." "How's the scenery?" "Fair." "Any romantic spot where lovers jumped off a high bluff into a pond?" "No; folks up our way don't make such fools of themselves." "Oh, well, have you got any cave about with an old hermit in it?" "No, sir; if any superannuated tramp tries to loaf about that part of the country and get money out of my guests by calling himself a hermit, he'll find himself in the house of correction quicker than a hornet can get his work in." "Ah! Got a medical spring on your place?" "No, sir. If a man is sick we've got a good physician in the vicinity, and good pure water is so plenty with us that we don't try to economize on it by inducing our guests to drink from some nasty pool, that'll give 'em an attack of cholera." "I see. Well then how's the fishing?" "Can't catch two fish a day in the whole region, but there's a number of good places for a party to go to with a supply of punch and cigars to play cards and have a good time, and I always keep a supply of trout on hand to fill your baskets when you come home so you can show the speckled beauties to the women folks." "H'm! You don't seem to have such attractions as most of the summer resorts advertise." "No, I haven't, I have to rely on the fact that I give a clean room, decently furnished, plenty of chicken and vegetables to eat, and lots of milk to drink. There's all out doors for the children to play about and a big shady piazza for the old folks to loaf on. I charge folks a fair price for what they have and if I catch a servant skirmishing for fees I give that servant the bounce. That's about all there is to it." And the broker rose up and said, "You may expect me with my family down at your place about the middle of May, to stay through the season, and if I can make my partner go, too, I shall. You've got the sort of a place I've been looking after for ten years."—Boston Post.

"GREASING THE SPIDER." It was a smoking car on the Hudson River Road. A New Yorker was exhibiting an invention to several gentlemen, when an old farmer, with a settled look of sadness on his face, heaved a sigh and said:
"I never see such things without wanting to weep."
"Nothing about the invention to weep over that I can see," replied the inventor.
"Well, it sort o' calls up old recollections. Twenty years ago this month I thought I had a fortune in my grasp. Yes, sir; I believed I had struck the biggest thing since steam was brought into use."
"What was it?"
"One day when the old woman was flat down with her lame leg I had to cook my own dinner. After I'd got the pancake batter all fixed up I couldn't find the greased rag the old woman used to rub over the spider. Sort of absent-minded like, I picked up a piece of raw turnip from the table and used it instead. It worked to a charm; no smoke, no smell, no stick."
He paused here to wipe away a tear, and then continued:
"There was the fortune. I figured that 8,000,000 greased rags were in use in this country nine months the year. Fifty thousand barrels of grease were used up in greasing spiders. Over $100,000 wasted and gone. One turnip would make six greasers. 1000 bushels would supply the country. All that was needed was to cut them out in fancy styles, affix a handle and go to supplying the demand at ten cents each."
"There was money in it."
"No, there wasn't. I brought 100 bushels of turnips, $50 worth of wire, and hired two men to go to work, and then I took some greasers and went over into Vermont to see how it would take. They wouldn't have it. They wouldn't have it. They had something more simple and much cheaper."
"What could it have been?"
"They 'spit on the spider,'" replied the old man, as a tear made a break down his nose and was swallowed up in the dust on the floor.

WOULDN'T LIE. A few weeks ago a train over one of the railroads running west ran over a cow just beyond the Grand Trunk junction. That matter was reported at headquarters, but the owner of the mangled bovine was not heard of until recently, when he entered the president's office and remarked:
"I guess we'd better settle up now for that cow."
"Ah! you owned that cow killed by one of our trains in November, did you?"
"I expect I did."
"And what did you value her at?"
The man scratched his head, hitched around on his chair, and finally replied:
"Well, I dunno. My brother-in-law said I had the company tighter'n blazes, and he told me to say she was a new-milch cow and lay damages at $70."
"Yes."
"But my wife said I'd better say that the cow was not worth over $50."
"Yes. Well, how was it?"
"That's where the stick comes in, you see. I want all she was worth, and yet I don't want to swindle anybody. Fact is, she was an old cow, dry as a bone, and worth $15 for boarding-house beef. Yet, she was took away k nder sudden, and it made a bad muss around the place, and I reckoned you might add a little extra."
"Let us say $25."
"That's plenty. I spose I might have had fifty just as well as not, but I didn't want to lie about it."
"No; never tell a lie."
"Oh, I wouldn't have lied, 'cause I knew you sent a man out there to git all the facts in the case!" replied the man as he received an order on the treasurer for his check.—Detroit Free Press.

THE FUEL OF THE FUTURE. An experimental exhibition of the production of a new fuel from the combination of petroleum and steam was given in New York recently. The invention promises results of importance. To produce combustion nothing more is necessary than the means of an atomizer to unite dry steam and crude petroleum, only a common inch pipe being used for this purpose, one for steam, the other for oil, with cocks to regulate the flow. The junction is made within six inches of a perforated brick retort, which the nozzle enters, and instantly on a match being applied the whole interior of the furnace (an ordinary reverberatory smelting furnace) becomes intensely heated, so much so that all the exposed surfaces may be easily fused. If applied to a steam boiler, on a locomotive or on shipboard, it is only necessary to place the retorts, made of fire clay, on the grate bars, thus protecting the boiler plates from injury. It is claimed that a locomotive can be run from New York to Philadelphia for $4, instead of an expense of some $25, as at present with coal. More than this, the fuel creates no gas, smoke, ashes or cinders.

A good story is told of the late Chief Justice Cockburn. He was once counsel for the plaintiff in a certain case, and a Mr. E—— was for the defendant. Cockburn called a witness and proceeded to examine him. "I understood," he said, "that you called on the plaintiff, Mr. Jones, is that so?" "Yes," replied the man. "What did he say?" demanded Cockburn. Mr. E—— promptly rose and objected. The conversation could not be admitted as evidence. But Cockburn persisted, and Mr. E—— thereupon appealed to the judges, who after a time retired to further consider the point. They were absent for nearly an hour, and when they returned they announced that Mr. Cockburn might put his question. "Well, what did he say?" asked the counsel. "Please, sir, he wasn't at home," replied the witness, without moving a muscle.

Just before visiting a menagerie Johnny had a passage-at-arms with a young aunt who assisted at his toilet, and with whom he flew into a rage. Arrived at the menagerie, Johnny was immensely interested by a strange foreign animal with a long lithe body. "What animal is that, mamma?" he asked. "It is called an ant-eater, my son." Johnny, after a long silence; "Mamma, can't we bring Aunt Mary here some day?"

OUR FOREIGN TRADE.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

The official reports of the commerce of the country for December, and for the year 1880, make disclosures that are really startling. The value of domestic exports in December was $97,079,730, and the largest amount ever exported in any month before was about $86,000,000. The gross exports of merchandise were $98,856,632, against $87,733,999 in October, 1879, then the largest month's exports on record. The aggregate for the calendar year was $889,640,840, against $765,159,825 in 1879, an increase of $124,490,015. On the other hand, the value of imports in December, though a little larger than for November, was smaller than for any other month in 1880, or since September, 1879. The high tide of imports, which began coming in during the summer of 1879, has been rapidly receding ever since April, 1880, when the value of imports was $74 366,455, and in November it had fallen to $47,105,269. In December, with two more business days, it was only $47,372,788. Thus the excess of merchandise exports over imports, which was less than $1,000,000 in May last, rose in December to $51,483,844, a balance never before equalled. For the calendar year, the excess of exports of merchandise over imports was $192,846,407, which falls $88,700,000 below the excess in 1879, but is nevertheless quite large enough to remove the possibility of exports of specie for some time to come. The specie movement during the year was also more favorable than that of any other calendar year in the history of the country. The excess of imports over exports was $69,228,822, against $67,375,960 in 1879.

The naked figures given in the official reports, interesting as they are, do not cast much light upon the question of most general interest, namely, whether there is reason to expect that the foreign markets for American products will enlarge in proportion to the increase of productive capacity in this country. But it is encouraging to note that the exports of the more important products were not only large in the first half of the year, when Europe was sorely pressed by an extraordinary failure of crops, but were even larger on the whole in the last half of the year, when the immediate wants of Europe were met by crops fully up to the average. As to breadstuffs, it is true, this is not the case; the value of exports of that class for the fiscal year ending June 30 was nearly $25,000,000 larger than for the calendar year ending December 31, and only a part of this difference was due to the decline in prices. Yet it is surprising, on the whole, that shipments of grain have been made at a profit, during the last half of a year of good crops in Europe, so closely approaching in value and in quantity the exports during the corresponding part of a year of unprecedented destitution in Europe, and so greatly exceeding the largest exports ever known in any half year prior to that time. The facts clearly indicate that the permanent dependence of Europe upon this country for breadstuffs is steadily and surely increasing; that agriculture in Europe is becoming less able to supply the needs of the population, and that we may reasonably expect, whether crops abroad are good or bad, to be able in future to find a market for a greater quantity of breadstuffs than had ever been exported in any year prior to 1879.

The exports of cotton were in quantity the largest ever made in any year. Though the exact figures are not yet published, it is estimated that more than 2,000,000 000 pounds of cotton were sent abroad last year, and the value realized exceeds the amount received for sales of cotton in any year except 1866, when the price was abnormal. The exports of provisions for the year have been fully reported, and amount to 1,761,147,099 pounds, the value being $143,723,663. The large increase in value, in comparsion with the previous year, is due in part to an increase of 12 per cent. in quantity exported, and partly to an increase of 19 per cent. in prices obtained. Evidently the foreign demand for American provisions was so great as to have a powerful influence upon prices here. There is nothing to indicate that this demand is likely to diminish materially, on the contrary, it grows steadily, like the demand for breadstuffs, and the advance in price indicates that the demand treads closer upon the heels of the supply. The exports of petroleum were smaller in quantity by 16 per cent. than in 1879, but the decrease in value was only 6 per cent., which is not a discouraging symptom to producers. Exports of these four classes amounted in 1880 to about $675,000,000, leaving about $200,000,000 for the value of other exports of domestic products. As these other products were exported in 1879 to the value of $181,800,000, it follows that there was also an increase of about 10 per cent. in the exports other than those of the four classes mentioned.

A DEMOCRATIC CLEARING-OUT SALE.

[From The New-Albany Ledger-Standard (Dem.)]

Now that the election of James A. Garfield will become a certainty within a few days. The Ledger-Standard desires to dispose of what was once considered valuable campaign material. The material has served the purpose for which it was designed, or rather, it went as far toward that end as possible, and therefore it is now comparatively useless to this office. The following is, in part, an invoice of the material offered for sale: Two large and two small electrotype cuts of Hancock and English. Same of Garfield and Arthur. A lot of National Democratic Central Committee Bureau literature. A splendid table of 329 puzzle. Hancock pyramids and Garfield pyramids. Hancock monuments and Garfield monuments. Tables, or rather prognostications of the electoral vote, which the Ledger-Standard failed to come within gunshot of guessing at the correct figures. The electrotype plate of the Chinese letter, together with the envelope, which the Ledger-Standard would have bet its bottom dollar on being genuine. It is as good as new, and is no doubt a forgery. Tariff notes until you can't rest, and, in fact, much other campaign trash too numerous to mention.

CABINET GOSSIP.

The Washington Star says: Major Butterworth, who represents the first district of Ohio, in Congress, has returned from a visit to General Garfield, at Mentor. He was asked if Senator Conkling would have a representation in the Cabinet, to which he replied: "If Senator Conkling has asked for a certain Cabinet place and has been refused, but has been told that he can have any other place he may choose to select, would it, in such an event, be General Garfield's fault if New York is without representation in the Cabinet?"

THE BOOKS OF 1880.

The last number of the Publishers' Weekly gives an interesting summary of the books published in this country in 1880. The total number included in its list is 2076—an average of over 34 a week. The year was noticeable not only for the number of publications issued in all branches of literature, but for the promptness with which publication followed upon announcement, and the very small number of belated books which went over to swell the list of 1881. The Weekly gives the following approximate apportionment of the books of the year in classes:

Fiction	292
Juvenile books	270
Theology and Religion	230
Biography, Memoirs, etc	191
Education—Language	131
Description, Travel, etc	126
Medical Science	114
Poetry and the Drama	111
Literary History and Miscellany	106
Political and Social	99
History	72
Useful Arts	63
Law	62
Natural Science	46
Fine Arts—Illustrated Works	44
Domestic Science	43
Amusements, Sports, etc	32
Humor and Satire	30
Music (chiefly Church and School)	24
Mental and Moral Philosophy	22
Total	2076

It is worth noticing that, although fiction heads this list, and juvenile books come next, the works published in the department of theology and religion press hard after, and fall but 52 behind the first, and 31 behind the second. If we take the classes of fiction and juvenile books together, and place on the other side books upon theology and religion, history, education and language, and biographies and memoirs, the latter group is more numerous than the former. This fact is worth noting for the reassuring of people who fancy that Americans are given over to the almost exclusive consumption of light and trashy reading. If we were to put into the scale works devoted to the medical and natural sciences, the useful arts, mental and moral philosophy and law, the disproportion between the lighter and heavier orders of literature would be still more marked. There is, however, a depressing reflection which requires to be considered here in modification of this view of the matter, and that is that the Weekly list covers only the publications of reputable houses, announced or referred to in its columns as an organ of the trade, and so does not take into the account the floods of trash published in the various cheap "libraries" and in other forms and sent out by the million copies to sap the intellectual and moral powers of the people.

The Weekly names twenty-five of the leading novels of the year, even at least of which are of American authorship, viz.: Mrs. Whitney's Odd or Even, Howell's Undiscovered Country, Aldrich's Stillwater Tragedy, Cable's Grandissimes, Tourgee's Bricks Without Straw, James's Washington Square, Miss Fletcher's Head of Medusa, Wallace's Ben Hur, Salvage, Roe's Day of Fate and Miss Warner's End of a Coil. It may be questioned whether we do quite right in reckoning James as still an American. As to juvenile books, the Weekly speaks in terms of proper disapproval of "the scramble for the variety shop business," which shows a pernicious influence in annually swelling that class of books which is chiefly distinguished for its profusion of poor second-hand cuts, thick paper and gaudy covers.

Among theological publications the Weekly notes a large percentage of important works, among them Weiss's Immortal Life, Taylor's Gospel Miracles, Wright's Logic of Christian Evidences, Gray's Natural Science and Religion, Murray's Origin and Growth of the Psalms, Renouf's Religion of Ancient Egypt, Abbott's Authorship of the Fourth Gospel, Beecher's Eden Tableau, the Bampton, Hulsean and Donellan Lectures, Dexter's Congregationalism, and Hughes's Manliness of Christ. A good proportion of these, it will be noticed, are of American authorship. Bissell's Commentary on the Apocrypha, which the Weekly fails to include in its list, is more worthy of mention than many that are mentioned, and is one of the most valuable contributions of American scholarship to the department of theology which the year gave to us.

The memoirs of Metternich, Mme. de Remusat and Kossuth, and the lives of the Baroness Bunsen, Sister Dora, Channing, Buckle, Bushnell, Hodge, Guizot, Gov. Andrew, Livingstone, Goethe and Fox make the year memorable in the department of biography. In poetry, notable works are not numerous, though new volumes by Tennyson, Longfellow and Holmes were published. Escott's England, Schliemann's Ilios, and Miss Bird's Unbeaten Tracks in Japan are among the most important volumes of travel; and in the departments of history, essays and criticism, mental and moral philosophy, political and social science, and the natural sciences, there was a number of notable books, representing fresh and valuable contributions to literature. Altogether, the year 1880 was quite far from being one of literary inactivity, and it is safe to say that the book trade enters upon the new year in a more hopeful mood than it has entertained since 1873, while it is as true as ever that the short and easy road to wealth does not lie through book-writing, book-making or book-selling.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Wm. E. Chandler has presented to the New Hampshire State Historical Society the pocket knife carried by President Lincoln on the night of his assassination.

The bill providing that wife beaters shall be punished at the whipping post, has been adversely reported upon the Judiciary Committee of the Connecticut Legislature.

There are now three amendments to the Constitution of Wisconsin before the Legislature of that State. One provides for biennial sessions and elections, one for allowing women to vote, and the third for a uniform rate of taxation.

It was only a few days since that Mr. Sunset Cox, when advocating the payment of a Confederate claim, tearfully repeated to the House a stanza of the 'Blue and Gray.' It was only Thursday that he reminded Mr. Regan of Texas, that he left the House to join the Rebellion.

King Kalakana, the Hawaiian, has the civilized good taste to dress simply, to wear no jewelry and no decorations. He is a remarkably handsome man, more than six feet in height. His carriage is erect, his beard, mustache and eyes are black, and his expression is amiable.

Christine Nilsson says that it amuses her to hear people in France speak of the dreadful habit that Americans have of conveying their food to their mouths with their knives. She says that she has been at table between a German prince and a diplomatist who went through the same sleight of hand.

Congressman Aiken of South Carolina, who describes a Northern Republican who settles in the South as a "political legalized burglar," wants Northern men to come South and invest their capital there, but to "keep their mouths shut on political topics." Mr. Aiken wouldn't make a first-classman to come North and encourage emigration to South Carolina. — Boston Journal.

A French chemist is reported to have given a striking proof of domestic affection. He condensed the body of his deceased wife into the space of an ordinary seal, and had her highly polished and set in a ring. He made a nice income by betting with lapidaries and others that they could not tell the material of the seal in three guesses, and, after pocketing the money, would burst into tears and say, "It is my dear, dear wife."

Little Gracie had been told that it was impolite to take the last biscuit on the table. The other morning, at breakfast, she was observed to gaze long and earnestly at the solitary biscuit on the bread-plate. The temptation at last proved too great. Reaching for the coveted morsel, she exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, I'se almost starved! I dess I won't be polite to-day. I'll wait till some day when I ain't to hungry.—Boston Transcript.

Col. Carroll D. Wright, who is at the head of the Bureau of Industrial Statistics for the State of Massachusetts, says that in the various strikes at Fall River, the sum of one million four hundred thousand dollars has been lost to the operatives through idleness, to say nothing of the large sums contributed by the working classes in other places, and this enormous sum was absolutely wasted, inasmuch as in no instance was a permanent advantage secured to or by the operatives.

A citizen of Nebraska explains the fact of his being a Democrat in this manner: "I began as a Republican, was so born and bred. I ran for office whenever I could get a chance and was always beaten. Finally I concluded that I would never have anything to do with offices, and lest something might induce me to recall my determination, I joined the Democratic party, knowing that no member of that party in Nebraska has the slightest chance of being chosen to any official position."

The fact that one Greenback statesman in Maine has been issuing short sections of stove funnel and labeling them corn shellers, and that another who was a member of the Gardiner Council leaves his due-bill with the State Prison officers for $380 in payment for carriages to that amount, ought to be a warning to all to drop the "flat" business. When one gets the idea that a dollar can be made by printing "this is a dollar" on a piece of paper, he is liable to fall into the error that labeling a piece of sheet iron "this is a corn sheller" makes it one, and that his "I. O. U." is equivalent to actual dollars.—Boston Journal.

CURRENT ITEMS.

At a recent exhibition of the phonograph in England, an American laugh that had been bottled up in New York was ground out, much to the amusement of the Britons.

In the United States the consumption of tobacco is equivalent to seven pounds per head of the population, in Holland to six pounds, in Belgium to five and a half, in Switzerland to five, in Germany and Austria to four, in Russia to two, and in France to one and three-quarters.

The Northwestern Lumberman, which is rendering an important service to the country by awakening people to the fact of the ever-increasing denudation of forests, estimates the loss involved by the fires of 1871, in Wisconsin, Michigan, and New York, at $215,000,000. In 1878 the woods on Lake Superior were afire almost continuously for 160 miles.

At the inaugural ball, in Washington, the following is to be the regular supper, for which $1 will be charged: Chicken salad, lobster salad, stewed oysters, fried oysters, pickled oysters, sandwiches, ices, coffee, tea and "relishes." For fifty cents there will be a bunch of "crackers and cheese." Vacant halls will for two or three days be turned into lodging houses at fifty cents for each person, and it is estimated there will be at least 15,000 visitors who will not be able to secure regular hotel accommodations.

SENATOR CONKLING. We notice that the Brooklyn Eagle says that it is not generally known that the selection of Mr. Blaine as Secretary of State in Mr. Garfield's cabinet was made with the full consent and approval of Hon. Roscoe Conkling. The Eagle asserts that this information is obtained "on excellent authority." This story bears the impression of absurdity upon its face, for Mr. Garfield's appointments will no. be made "by and with the advice and consent of Roscoe Conkling." If we are not greatly misinformed Senator Conkling knew nothing of this intended appointment, but he did say, after the intelligence reached him, that it was, under the circumstances, the most natural thing to do. Mr. Conkling has never seen Mr. Garfield alone, or conversed or communicated with him regarding appointments since the Chicago Convention. This we have on excellent authority. Mr. Conkling intends, we presume, to look after the interests of his friends in New York, and he has a very unpleasant way at times of asserting his rights as the senior Senator from the Empire State, and there is no reason to think that age softens that asperity of temper which lessens his influence and prevents that measure of popularity which he might otherwise exert beyond the borders of his own State.—Boston Journal.

Legislative Proceedings.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Senate.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 14.

The Senate met at four P. M.

The Committee on Interior Waters reported a bill to amend the charter of Sebois Dam Company, granting increased power on logs over dams on the outlet of Trout Lake and East Branch of Sebois stream.

The Committee on Agriculture reported a bill making seventy pounds Turks Island salt and sixty pounds of Liverpool a bushel.

Passed to be engrossed—An act empowering the County Commissioners of Penobscot to purchase, take and appropriate land for a ferry landing in the town of Brewer; an act to amend an act to establish a Municipal Court in the city of Auburn; an act to amend an act to incorporate the West Brook Manufacturing Co. approved Feb. 25, 1845; an act to amend section fifth of sec. 21 of chapter 11 of the Revised Statutes, relating to powers and obligations of school districts.

[Special to the Whig & Courier.]

House.

Petitions were presented and referred for the protection of fish in Sabbath Day pond, in the town of New Gloucester, county of Cumberland; for change in the law in regard to dower.

Bills were presented to incorporate the Jimmy Brook and Scrag Rock Co., for the driving of logs; to amend sec. 3, chapter 2 of R. S., relating to probate bonds.

Ordered, That the Judiciary Committee inquire into the expediency of amending sec. 3 of chap. 162 of the Public Laws of 1879, by striking out the words "one hundred" and inserting in place thereof the word "party."

Bill to incorporate the Cape Elizabeth Railroad Company was taken from the table, and pending its first reading was tabled on motion of Mr. King of Caribou.

Subsequently the bill was taken up and on motion of Mr. Bradstreet of Bridgton, sec. 1 was amended so that if the road shall not be completed on or before January 5, 1885, its act shall be null and void. The bill then received a passage.

The bill relating to the Bridgton Telegraph Co. was taken from the table and passed.

Resolve in favor of French spoliation claims was adopted:

Resolves making appropriations for the Bangor Children's Home, Female Orphan Asylum and St. Elizabeth Orphans of Portland, were read and assigned for Wednesday of next week.

Passed to be engrossed—An act to amend the Revised Statutes relating to witness and false certificates. If a witness testifies falsely that he has attended as witness for more than one party he shall be fined. An act to authorize the Bridgton Telegraph Co. to discontinue and remove their present line of telegraph and to operate lines along any railroads that may be built from Bridgton to Portland.

Various Matters.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 14.

The bill to amend the statutes relating to probate bonds, provides that the Judge of Probate on due notice to all parties interested, may, in the exercise of a just discretion, discharge the surety on a bond from all liability for any subsequent, but not for any prior breaches thereof, and require a new bond of the principal with sureties approved by him.

The petitioners who ask for a change in the law of dower, belong at Mechanic Falls. They represent that the law as it now stands is unequal and unjust to the widow and very often causes much hardship, especially when there is little or no personal estate. They want a change so that the widow may hold part of their deceased husband's real estate in fee simple.

An order was introduced in the House this morning providing for a change in the present law relating to the support of paupers. Hitherto the State has been compelled to support all paupers in places having less than 200 population, and a valuation of less than $100,000. If the proposed amendment is adopted, the State will get rid of may claims in this line, for all paupers residing in places having a population of 200, and a valuation of $40,000, will have to be supported by such places.

The bill declaring women eligible to certain school offices, which is pending in the legislature, is similar to the Massachusetts law and is as follows:

SECT. 1.—No person shall be ineligible to the office of Supervisor of Schools or Superintending School Committee, on account of sex.

SECT. 2—This act shall be in effect when approved by the Governor.

MECHANIC FALLS, Feb. 14. The revised figures show T. B. Swan's deficiency to be $1,659.38, due the town of Minot on the treasurers account. He has not been heard from since he was at Chicago.

MARINE RECORD.

NANTUCKET, Feb. 14. The schooner J. F. Carver, Weehawken, N. J., to Portland, &c., with coal, went ashore on West End, Nantucket, and proved a total loss. The crew was saved. The captain reports on February 3d seeing a boat crew adrift on the ice. They were probably carried out to sea.

The schooner Almedia, from Portland for New York, with lumber, is ashore at the west end of this island. Her crew were saved. The vessel is a total loss.

GARFIELD'S CABINET.

Confident that Blaine is to be Secretary of State.

BOSTON, Feb. 14. The Journal's Washington special says: Blaine's friends say that as soon as he has recovered from his rheumatism he will leave for Mentor. They are confident that he is to be Secretary of State in Garfield's Cabinet, and that after a personal conference during which the other members of the Cabinet will be agreed upon, he will resign his seat in the Senate.

The Northampton Bank Robbers Plead Not Guilty.

NORTHAMPTON, Feb. 14. "Red" Leary and Billy Conners arraigned to-day for the robbery of the Northampton Bank in 1876, plead not guilty. The trial is set for March 21st. "Shang" Draper will be tried the same time.

NEW YORK.

Resolutions of the Sugar Trade.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. At a largely attended meeting of the New York sugar trade to-day to consider what action should be taken with regard to Sherman's letter on the subject of collection of duties on sugar, resolutions were unanimously adopted indorsing the report of the Chamber of Commerce on the subject of collection of duties on sugar, as a true and fair statement of the, controversy between the merchants and the Treasury. The resolutions assert that the question at issue is not one of fraud, and this meeting desires to enter an emphatic protest against the manner in which the Secretary of the Treasury treated the subject, clothing it with an appearance of a fraudulent purpose on the part of importers.

Stabbing Affray.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. Isaac Lotterman has been arrested charged with stabbing M. E. Lee six times last night. Lee declined to testify against Lotterman, although the latter confesses to a difficulty with Lee last night.

MURDER.

A Woman Fatally Shot by an Old Offender.

GREAT BARINGTON, Mass., Feb. 14. Harriet Morrison, aged 35, was shot and almost instantly killed at Egremont last night during the scuffle between James Bunce, in whose family she was employed, and Jeremiah Winchell. The latter, who was partially intoxicated, called on Mrs. Morrison and attempted to scuffle with her in the kitchen. She resenting, he assaulted her thirteen-year old son who was asleep in the room. The mother defending him, was thrown down by Winchell, but escaped and ran into Bunce's bed-room, Winchell pursuing. Bunce protesting, seized a gun which was hanging over the door, and upon Winchell's attempting to wrest it from him it was discharged, the contents lodging in the woman's stomach. Winchell continued to fight with Bunce who, reinforced by his son, disabled and secured him. During their absence to arouse the neighbors, he slipped away to the house of one Funk, where no one dared arrest him. He was finally arrested after some resistance by Sheriff Humphrey and brought here. This morning he was committed without bail on a charge of murder. Winchell has served six years in State Prison for rape and is considered a dangerous man. He is 35 years old. He claims that the gun was accidentally discharged.

WASHINGTON.

Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of Mr. Wood.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. The New York Congressional delegation met to-day and passed resolutions of respect to the memory of Mr. Wood and providing for a memorial service in the House during the present session.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS—Third Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.

The credentials of Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri, and Henry L. Dawes, of Massachusetts, were presented and filed.

A large number of petitions for constitutional amendments prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors were presented and referred.

There was also presented favorably the House bill appropriating money towards the Centennial celebration of the battle on Groton Heights and other purposes. Placed on the calendar.

A bill was reported favorably by Mr. Saunders, with an amendment, establishing Territory of Pembina and providing a temporary government therefor. Placed on the calendar.

A bill was reported favorably by Mr. Booth, from the Appropriations Committee, with an amendment and recommendation that it pass, authorizing the payment of prize money to the officers of the Farragut fleet for the destruction of the enemy's vessels in 1862.

The following resolutions were adopted:

By Mr. Ingalls calling upon the District Commissioners for information as to what damage has been done to Long Bridge by the recent flood and whether in repairing the same some method cannot be adopted that will diminish the probability of inundation of the city hereafter.

By Mr. Hoar directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report to the Senate the civil service rules at the customs office at New York, and the practical effect of the operation of said rules upon the public service.

By Mr. Platt instructing the Committee on Post Offices to inquire, if any, and what means can be devised to prevent the letting of contracts for carrying the mails to speculative bidders and report by bill or otherwise.

After considerable discussion the amendment appropriating one million in aid of the American steamship lines, was laid on the table, after which the bill passed. After debate on priority of business, the House funding bill was taken up and laid over as the regular order of business to-morrow. A message from the House announcing the death of Representative Wood, was received. On motion of Mr. Bayard, as a mark of respect, the Senate adjourned.

House.

The Speaker announced the appointment of Clymer, Forney and Hawley as conferees for the House on the Army Appropriation Bill.

Several bills were introduced and referred, including one by Mr. Townsend, of Ill., fixing the first Monday in November as the time for the assembling of Congress.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Cox of New York, to admit free of duty articles intended for the international exhibition. The bill also authorizes the President, whenever he shall deem the preparations made therefor adequate, to invite all foreign governments to be represented and take part in the International exhibition at New York City 1883, provided that the United States shall not be liable, directly or indirectly, for any expenses attending such exhibition.

Mr. Carlisle, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported back the bill to regulate the manufacture of, vinegar by the alcoholic vaporizing process. The bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Hill, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported back the resolutions declaring the policy of the United States in regard to the Interoceanic Canal. Referred to Committee of the Whole.

The Senate amendments to the joint resolution authorizing the President to invite France to join the United States in celebrating the centennial of the surrender of Cornwallis were concurred in. The House then considered D strict business.

The speaker read a telegram announcing the death of Fernando Wood. Resolutions expressive of regret at the sad circumstance and providing for an official escort by members of the House of the remains to New York, and as a further mark of respect, the House adjourned.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPT., OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Feb. 15—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Clear, or partially cloudy weather, westerly winds becoming variable, stationary or rising barometer and temperature.

THE WARRING ELEMENTS.

More Snow in Missouri and Kansas—Waters Subsiding in the Inundated Districts.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 14. Despatches from different parts of this State say the railroads are still blocked with snow in various places, but large gangs of men are working day and night and the probability is that the roads will be clear by to-morrow and trains will be run on schedule time.

The deepest snow seems to have fallen in Kansas and the roads there are suffering most. The weather here is moderating slightly, but the mercury is still below the freezing point.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Feb. 14. The river has fallen considerably, leaving large masses of ice on the railroads leading to Trenton and Philadelphia. The Railroad Company are clearing the tracks of obstructions. No trains have left this city for any point. It is thought that the track will be open by 1 o'clock to-day.

HARPER'S FERRY, Feb. 14. The Potomac fell three feet during the night and is still falling.

Hanlan Easily Wins the Race.

LONDON, Feb. 14. The race between Hanlan and Laycock over the Thames course for the championship of England, the Sportsman's challenge cup and 1000 pounds, came off this afternoon and was won easily by Hanlan, four or five lengths in 25 minutes and 41 seconds. There was little betting on the race as the result was regarded as a foregone conclusion. Three to one on Hanlan was freely offered. Hanlan jumped away with the lead which almost immediately became two lengths. He maintained about this much lead to Barnes', when he still led by two lengths. It was apparent from the start that, barring accidents, he must win. Laycock rowed well and strongly, but he had no chance. The weather was cold and raining. The tow path along the course was thickly lined with spectators.

England's Temper Rising.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. London specials of Sunday night say: All the day there has been an uneasy feeling lest the public meetings to express sympathy with Michael Davitt should be made an opportunity for serious disturbance. The public offices in Downing street were to be attacked and they have been guarded all day.

LONDON, Feb. 14. A despatch from Dublin says: The social condition of the country has further improved. The weekly rents of the Land League are falling off. Tenants in several districts are paying full rents to landlords. The Property Defence Association is doing good work for landowners by attending sales, serving writs, etc.

Gladstone left his official residence in Downing street last night, it not being thought wise for him to remain there over to-day. Arrangements were made yesterday to arrest the leading Home Rulers in London, including three or four members of Parliament, had there been any outbreak. The temper of England is undeniably rising and growing dangerously bitter on this subject.

It is stated that over £70,000 of the Land League funds have been transferred to the continent, and it has been decided to ultimately invest the amount in the United States.

No Flinching.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. Patrick Eagan, Treasurer of the Land League, telegraphs from Paris to the Irish World, declaring there will be no flinching in carrying out the work of the League. Parnell returns to Parliament to oppose the passage of the Arms bill.

LONDON, Feb. 14. The Standard says there is no prospect of the Land bill being introduced before the 1st of March. It will consist of two parts, one dealing with the interests of occupying tenants, the other continuing the provisions facilitating purchase by tenants of their holdings.

The chief provisions of the Arms bill gives the authorities power to search premises or persons for arms.

The South American War.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. Additional news from Lima is received. The peaceable entry of the Chilians into the city is guaranteed by the commander on condition that no resistance shall be made, even to the extent of a single shot. The Peruvian army has dispersed in all directions, the flight being marked by wholesale robberies, accompanied by murder and violence along the route.

Pierolas, late President of Peru, addressed a note to the municipal authorities of Lima, advising them that his government is still in existence and announcing the purpose of continuing the war, being supposed to rely on the Peruvian army now at Arequipa. Callas has been declared open to commerce, the Chilian officers being appointed to Custom House positions. The Chilian authorities endeavored to persuade the Peruvian Court officials to resume their duties, but the latter declined.

They also refused to perfect a Provisional government to treat with the Chilians upon which the Chilian Commander declared the city under martial law. The populace sacked many stores owned by foreigners, which the latter resented, and a lively fight with the mob occurred, resulting in considerable loss of life before the pillage was stopped.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 14. It is stated the Kurdish chief Obeidullah has again collected a considerable force for another invasion of Persia.

LONDON, Feb. 14. Dr. Max Schlisinger, well known as the London correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, is dead.

ANSWER THIS.

Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor the same question.—Times.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Did you receive a valentine?

Clean slate at the station house last night.

Ten deaths were reported in the city last week.

Coasting parties were numerous last evening.

Meeting of the City Government this evening.

Mr. Joseph Oakes, the shipbuilder, is reported seriously ill.

Arrangements are being made to call a Land League meeting here.

Matters have been quiet in the Police Court for some days past.

Porter Neally, Esq., and wife will start this morning for the South.

Remember the coffee party at the Universalist church this evening.

We received a pleasant call from Hon. L. R. King of Caribou, last evening.

The young folks had great sport last evening distributing valentines about the city.

As the traveling is hard in the country but few farmers now find their way to market.

W. H. Strickland, Esq., left for Chesuncook Lake yesterday morning to look after his lumber interests.

The sleighing on the Hampden road is excellent and the owners of fast horses are making the most of it.

Quite a number of our citizens went over to Augusta yesterday on business connected with the Legislature.

The Ladies Benevolent Society connected with the Unitarian church will meet Thursday instead of Friday at Unity Hall.

E. H. Hobbs, general baggage master on the Maine Central Railroad, died suddenly in Portland Friday night, of heart disease.

The little office of Messrs. Bacon, Robinson & Co. has been put on the ice and will be moved down to the old Thurston wharf at once.

At a business meeting of the Reform Club, held last evening, Mr. Francis P. Hall was elected President of the Club, vice John F. Montgomery, resigned.

In another column Mr. Fred Atwood, of Winterport, calls attention to the "Meadow King" mowing machine. He will send descriptive circulars free to any one making application.

The Ladies' Guild of St. John's Episcopal church, will give another of their pleasant parlor concerts Wednesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Holyoke, sixty one Pine street.

The steamer Katahdin arrived at Bucksport at four o'clock yesterday morning, and the passengers reached this city at half-past six on a special train. The boat sailed again for Boston at the usual hour.

A young lady was caressing a pretty spaniel and murmuring: "I do love a nice dog!" "Ah!" sighed a dandy, standing near, "I would I were a dog." "Never mind," retorted the young lady, sharply, "you'll grow."

The E. & N. A. train was about an hour late last evening owing to a heavy fall of snow between Mattawamkeag and Vanceboro Saturday and Sunday. The rails from this city to Mattawamkeag were perfectly clear, but from that station on there was about a foot of snow on a level.

Since the mild weather the young folks have been deprived of the pleasure of visiting the skating rink, as it was one large sheet of water. Yesterday, however, the weather was colder and there will be some excellent ice to-day. Possibly the Bangor Band will give a concert at the rink Wednesday evening.

OBITUARY. Mrs. Eveline R. Page, widow of the late Dr. Alpheus F. Page, died in Bucksport on the seventh of this month. Within a short time two other aged ladies have died in this town. One, Mrs. Elizabeth Hervey, at the age of eighty-four years, and the other Mrs. Lydia Carter, widow of the late Samuel Carter, at the age of ninety-nine years. Mrs. Carter was the oldest person in the town.

ACCIDENTS. We are informed that on Saturday last Mr. John Dougherty was kicked in the face while clipping a horse and had his jaw broken. On the same day a young man employed in the wood department at the Hinckley & Egery Iron Works, met with a painful accident. He was engaged about the lathe when a piece of wood was thrown from the machine, and striking him in the face inflicted quite a severe cut.

MILL PROPERTY. Mr. H. B. Sawyer, of Greenville, has purchased the old steam mill in the centre of the village, owned by Messrs Shaw & Saunders, and proposes to put up a new mill on the same site. The work of tearing down the old building will commence at once, and he intends to have the new mill ready to commence sawing early in the spring. Mr. Sawyer was in the city yesterday making arrangements for new machinery.

ICE NOTES. It is now estimated that about seventy-five thousand tons of ice will be cut on the Penobscot this season, and about eight thousand tons on Kenduskeag stream, making the total ice crop here eighty-three thousand tons. Most of the ice men will come ude their operations this week. During the recent thaw the fields were flooded with water and when the weather came off colder the grooves made by the plow were frozen up, which will necessitate plowing over again.

FATHER KEMP CONCERT. This evening Mr. Z. S. Patten assisted by Mrs. J. A. Crowell, Mrs. E. T. Wasgatt, Mr. J. H. Haynes, Mr. G. S. Farrington and other of his musical friends will give a Father Kemp concert in City Hall. The old song, "Revolutionary Ten" will be sung by one of the patriarchs. The doors will be open at seven o'clock and the concert commence at half-past seven. Tickets twenty-five cents.

IMPROVEMENTS AT BAR HARBOR. Capt. Low, of this city, has contracted with Messrs. Shaw & Son, of Portland, to raise the West End Hote, at Bar Harbor, and will commence operations about the middle of March. Mr. W. A. Jordan, also of this city, will do the carpenter work. Capt. Low is a veteran in his line of business, having had a long experience, and always does his work in a thorough and satisfactory manner. We understand that considerable building and repairing will be done at Bar Harbor this season.

RUN OVER BY THE CARS. The mangled remains of the bloodhound, which the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company supposed they lost in Lewiston, were found near the railroad track at Belgrade Crossing, by a section hand. The animal's foreleg has been cut off, near the body, by a car-wheel. It is presumable that the dog, which was chained in the car, fell off and was whirled along by the train, hanging by the chain near the track, until the chain broke and he was crushed beneath the car-wheels. The hound was the ugliest of the three, and reported to be very valuable. His body was forwarded to the company.

A large quantity of ship timber and knees, together with some large birch plank for the sluiceway at the dam came down over the B. & P. Railroad Saturday.

ELOCUTION. Notice is given elsewhere that Mrs. A. W. Plummer will begin a class in elocution in Dr. Maxfield's reception room, Strickland Block, next Friday evening. Mrs. Plummer is a graduate of the National School of Elocution and Oratory at Philadelphia. She possesses rare natural ability as a reader, which, taken in connection with a thorough course of study, places her well up in the ranks of her chosen profession. Mrs. Plummer has given several impromptu readings in this city before large audiences, and at the close but one opinion was expressed, namely, that she was a reader of far more than ordinary ability, capable of pleasing and instructing the most critical audience.

FISH HATCHING. In the State fish hatching house in New Hampshire the brook trout and Penobscot salmon spawn are beginning to hatch, and will be ready to distribute when the ice breaks up. It is thought there will be 100,000 young trout then, which will be given to the twenty-five towns which will vote at the March meeting to protect them for three years. There are now in the hatching house salmon eggs taken at Plymouth, 60,000; salmon eggs from the Penobscot, 419,500; brook trout eggs, 15,000; saibling trout eggs 45,000; shad water or Lake Winnepesaukee white fish, 63,000; total, 684,500; and 120,000 schoodic, or land-locked salmon, 50,000 Michigan white fish, and 20,000 "salmo irida" or California mounta n trout are expected. The supply of water, which has been low, is increasing so that the services of the new hydraulic ram are no longer needed. There have never been so many eggs in the establishment before.

"FREAKS." The sale of seats for the performance by the New York Criterion Comedy Company, will commence at Bugbee's to-morrow morning. The following is taken from a lengthy notice in the Cleveland Leader: The make-up, attitudes, entrances and exits of the principal characters each in turn, are greeted with shouts of laughter, which at times considerably interfere with the progress of the stage business. At the close of each act the curtain had to be raised twice in answer to the most vehement calls. Where there is so much to admire in the remarkable excellence of the individual artists, for they are all artists, it is a difficult task to select any for special praise. The secret of the great success of the company is the conscientious devotion to the detail of every point. If only one line is to be recited, in delivery, look and gesture, every word is made to tell, and thus endows even the most unimportant assumption with conspicuous prominence.

NEW BRUNSWICK RAILWAY MATTERS. The statement that the New Brunswick Lumber Company had sold out its land in England for $4,000,000 appears to be a mistake. The New Brunswick Railroad Company have secured the passage of a bill through the Legislature of Maine extending their running powers in this State. They will at once begin the work of pushing on their road to Presque Isle. Negotiations are completed or nearly so for the purchase of eight or ten engines of the standard gauge, to be delivered in August or earlier. In the meantime Mr. Burpee is about to have built two hundred freight cars at the Company's works opposite Fredericton. Mr. Burpee has also been instructed by the Directors to push with all possible vigor the work of widening the gauge, by the use of steam shovels, if necessary, and all the other appliances to hasten the work. The rails are expected in March.

MAINE DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION. The annual meeting of the Maine Dairymen's Association for the election of officers and for the discussion of questions pertaining to dairying will be held at Phillips, Feb. 23d and 24th. The following speakers have been engaged for the occasion: O. S. Bliss, Secretary of Vermont Dairymen's Association, Butter and Butter Making; Frances Barnes, Houlton, Associated Dairying; S. L. Boardman, Augusta, Butter Packages; D. S. Hodges, Phillips, The Relative Value of Cattle; Foods and Results of Feeding the Same; S. Dill, Phillips, The Advantage of the Dairy to the Farm; J. R. Nelson, Winthrop, Improvement of Dairy Stock; J. W. North, Jr., Augusta, The Superior and Inferior Cow; J. W. North, Jr., Augusta, Milking. Papers are also expected from several prominent dairymen in the State. Board at the hotels at Phillips will be at low rates; and one fare for the round trip will be charged over the Maine Central and Sandy River Railroads. There will be a display of dairy products, apparatus, butter packages, &c.

HAMPDEN SCHOOLS. A correspondent writes: Hampden Academy, Rev. D. H. Sherman, Principal, opened Monday afternoon with seventy-two scholars. As the Academy has been vacant for some time this is considered very promising. Mr. Sherman is a fine instructor and comes highly recommended, and as the school opens so well it is quite probable that his stay will be permanent, thus giving the scholars in this and adjoining towns a fine opportunity to take an academical and preparatory course. There will be a course of ten lectures connected with the school, the first to be delivered Feb. 21st. The proceeds will be devoted to purchasing new apparatus for the school. Most of the schools in town closed Friday. The Grammar School in District No. 4 has been under the instruction of Wm. B. Reed, of Dixmont. This is Mr. Reed's second winter in this school and he is highly esteemed by his scholars. Owing to extensive repairs being made on the school house, thus diminishing the money, the school was two weeks shorter than usual. At the close of the present as well as last winter's term, Mr. Reed was the recipient of a fine present from his scholars.

THE SPECTRE LIGHT. The Hallowell Register has had a reporter out to see about that "spectre light" of which an account was given last week, and he gives the following as a possible explanation of it: In the first place the railroad runs nearly north and south, and there is an electric current running through the rails all the time. This can be easily tested by applying a knife or any piece of steel to the end of a rail. It will be found a magnet, and as the rails are soft iron they would have no magnetic proper ies unless subject to a current of electricity. Again some of the locomotives burn soft coal. When the engineers stir their fires more or less of the half burned coal or coke drops out. Coke is almost pure carbon, and if one or two small pieces should lodge between the ends of the rails, and the electric current through the rails was strong enough, we should have all the conditions required for a good electric light like the Jablochoff candle. We should have a perfect voltaic arc and a light would be a natural result. As the current varied in intensity the light would appear and disappear, and as for size and appearance would just about answer the description of the gentlemen who have seen it.

Pauperism in Bangor.

Mr. Editor:—As there are from time to time many extravagant, if not to say false statements by those who ought to know better, that pauperism is on the increase in our city, and consequently an increase in the expenditures in the pauper department; I ask a small space in your valuable paper in order that I may be able to set the matter right, not only for the satisfaction of our people at home, but for those that read the statements abroad.

Up to 1869 and 1870, the expense of supporting our insane at the Hospital, Augusta, was paid from the contingent fund, and therefore hardly noticed by our tax payers. But as there were no department officers charged with the care of these, it was made the duty of the Overseers of the Poor to look after them, and pay for their support from their funds. The expense of the pauper department for 1869-'70, was $10,849 30, but adding the expenses of the insane for 1870-'71, it increased the amount $8,784, making the expenses of the pauper department for 1870-'71, about $14,000; then for various reasons the amount increased until it reached in 1876-'77, its highest figures, $22,455.57. From this time there has been a gradual reduction of expenses at the Hospital, so that the bills this year are $1,940.00, and the cost of the pauper department, minus this amount, will be this year about $13,000, a reduction from 1876-'77 of over $7,000.

Surely this ought to satisfy the most sensitive tax payer and stop the false statements that pauperism is increasing in our city. The rash statement made by a certain person who was stumping Aroostook, as a candidate for Congress, taking advantage of a statement in one of our reports as to the number helped for the year, which included men, women and children, together with persons helped in other towns, the insane, persons at the Alms House for a day or more, and the numerous tramps passing through our city, "that under Republican rule every eleventh person in Bangor was a pauper," was not true at the time, never was, and I trust never will be. If it had been true he would have lost some two or three hundred votes in this city.

A comparison of our pauper expenses with other towns and cities, shows that while they are per capita higher than some, they are lower than many others.

Persons desirous of learning further facts connected with the pauper department, are respectfully referred to our city reports for the past fifteen or twenty years which may be found at the City Clerk's office or at the office of the Overseers of the Poor. O. H. I.

WOODBURY PULSIFER, Sten.

Monday, Feb. 14.

State vs. James Duffy. Indicted for breaking and entering Jefferson Crocker's wool factory in Bangor and stealing three sheep skins and one hundred pounds of pulled wool, all of the value of about sixty dollars.

The defence was that the articles were not sufficiently identified; the defendant dealing in such merchandise accounted for the possession by saying that he found the sheep floating on the water at Mt. Desert. The jury did not believe his story and returned a verdict of guilty.

A Pleasant Occasion.

At the Stated Meeting of Pine Tree Lodge No. 172, F. & A. Masons, held at Masons' Hall in Mattawamkeag last Saturday evening, a beautiful black walnut bookcase was presented to the Lodge by the Ladies' Masonic Sewing Circle, which was accepted in a neat and appropriate speech by Joseph F. Twitchell, in behalf of the Lodge, and on his motion the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Lodge be presented to the lady members of said circle for the same.

Resolved, That these resolutions together with the names of the members of said circle be entered in the records of the Lodge.

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to present a copy of these resolutions bearing the seal of the Lodge to said circle, and also have the same published in the BANGOR DAILY WHIG & COURIER.

How to Tell Diphtheria.

The prevalence of diphtheria has created alarm in the minds of parents that is not warranted by the facts. Physicians in private practice as well as in public employ say that almost every ailment noticed in a child is taken for diphtheria, and that diphtheria treatment is often hastily administered by anxious parents in innocent cases of cold. There are frequent calls at the board of health for a circular intended for free distribution, and which contains instructions as to what should be done when diphtheria enters a household. An employee of the board of health says that the most important part of this circular is its description of the early symptoms of the disease. "Give heed," he says, in his interpretation of this part of the circular, "the moment you observe signs in your child of unwonted weakness, fatigue, or physical debility, particularly if it is accompanied with a little fever. Make the child frequently open its mouth, so that you can observe its throat. It is in the throat that the lay observer will first discover any certain signs of diphtheria. Never mind how red, or how much inflamed the throat appears. That does not indicate the disease. But the instant you see a white spot and detect a bad odor, run for a doctor. The white spot will grow. Other white spots will appear, and eventually they will run together in great blotches if the disease is not checked. The time to summon medical assistance is before these spots run together."—N. Y. Sun.

LET US GO FORTH.

[HEBREW XIII.: 13.]

Silent, like men in solemn haste,
Girded ready for the waste,
We pass out at the world's wide gate,
Turning our back on all its state;
Counting all the gain but loss
That leads to life, to bliss, to God.

We cannot and we would not stay;
We dread the snares that throng the way;
We fling aside the weight and sin,
Resolved to run and to win.
We know the peril, but our eyes
Rest on the splendor of the prize.

No idling now, no wasteful sleep,
From Christian toil our limbs to keep;
No shrinking from the desperate fight;
No thought of yielding or of flight;
No love of present gain or ease;
No seeking man or self to please.

No sorrow for the loss of fame,
No dread of scandal on our name;
No terror for the world's sharp scorn,
No wish that taunting to return;
No hatred stirs our hatred love,
And enmity but kindles love.

No sigh for laughter left behind,
Or pleasures scattered to the wind;
No looking back on Sodom's plains,
No loitering midway in the lanes;
No pang of disappointed love,
With the brave heart and steady eye,
We onward march to victory.

What though with weariness oppressed?
'Tis but a day and we shall rest;
This throbbing heart and burning brain
Will soon be calm and cool again.
Weight of fatigue and sleep of care—
Morn of the cloudless and the clear.

'Tis but a little, and we come
To our reward, our crown, our home!
Another year—it may be less—
And we shall hear the Master bless;
Finished the toil, the rest begun,
The battle fought, the triumph won!

We grudge not, then, the toil, the way;
Its ending is the endless day!
We think of it from this impassioned scene,
With little o'er the calm between;
We welcome each descending sun:
Rest when our joy may be begun!

DR. J. STEVENS

of Vassie, has opened an office in Bangor, No. 4 Main St., over the Boston Clothing House, 2d door to Caldwell Sweet's drug store, for special treatment of Chronic Diseases.

His theory is the origin of the human system, both in health and disease, also the action of drugs on the same, has convinced him that all materials or compounds, which as are not found in the chemical analysis of the various parts of the human system,) taken in as medicine, must become a foreign substance there, and a great cause of disease. Therefore the Dr. has thrown out from his materia medica all such inorganic poisonous matter, as mercury, Antimony, Lead, Zinc, Copper, &c., and all preparations of same for internal use, and has taken his from the Organic kingdom, and in a word, chooses what he considers the best from all the different systems of medicine.

In his every practice he uses the HEALING BALSAMS, the SOOTHING BALMS, and the NEUTRALIZING MIXTURES taken from God's own Remedies, the Herbal Kingdom, and by science and years of hard toil has so perfected this system of medical practice that many of the old chronic diseases that have been pronounced incurable are now easily cured by the NEW VITAL GIVING SYSTEM, and when he does cure a disease he leaves no bodily poison nor mineral drug in the human system to create another worse than the first.

The Dr., after due deliberation over his almost unparalelled success in treating Chronic diseases has determined to make a specialty of the following diseases peculiar to females, which are so puzzling to doctors in general, viz.: Nervous Diseases, all diseases of Kidney, Liver and Bladder, all diseases peculiar to females; also Genital Weakness, Early Decay, diseases arising from Youthful indiscretion, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, Worms, Biliousness, Scrofula-Humors, Mercurial Humors, Cancers, in this he uses the famous Philadelphia antidote. Scores are now residing by his infallible treatment of Fits and Brain diseases and all diseases of the system he handles with skill and delicacy, and will do you no harm in any case whatever.

Lung Complaints, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Complaints, are treated with great skill, and if he cannot warrant a cure in all cases, he will help, and many cases permanently restored to health. Those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity of being restored to health and happiness, should not miss this rare chance.

Office hours positively from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M. Consultation free.
